

to Open Wednesday Little Theatre Production

Drama Department's production of Inge's "Picnic" will be staged at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Little Theatre of the Johnson Building for a double bill.

Directed by Dr. Ralph Fulmer, the play is the story of a family of five for the interpretation of the drama and all male roles will be played by a double cast to give the audience a number of men in the same role.

John Morgan and Tom Morgan will appear in the role of a thick-skinned college football player who upsets a staid woman. Cheryl Rein-cke will have the role of the unawakened pretty girl who is the chief victim of his impact.

The action of "Picnic" takes place in the backyard between the houses of two middle-aged women, both long since deserted by their husbands. One is a kindly soul who spends her life caring for an invalid mother. The other presides over a home with two maturing daughters and a boarder who is a spinster school teacher.

North Central Representatives Make Accrediting Visit at MSC

Four representatives of the North Central Association are on campus today in their third day of visitation in regard to re-accreditation of the undergraduate and proposed graduate programs.

They are Dr. Paul L. Dressel, assistant provost and director of Institutional Research at Michigan State University; William P. Albrecht, dean of the Graduate School at the University of Kansas; Dr. Charles R. Hicks, head of the Department of Education at Purdue University; and Dr. John O. Hutchens, professor of physiology at the University of Chicago. Dr. Dressel is chairman of the visiting committee.

The college was last visited in 1958, when its undergraduate program was re-accredited and its new graduate program was accredited. A visit occurs approximately each 10 years.

In preparation, NWMSC faculty committees prepared a written self-survey of the various programs and administrative procedures of the college. Copies of this report reached NCA headquarters last September.

Since the 1958 visit, the college has phased out its own MS in Education program and entered a cooperative arrangement with the University of Missouri for the MEd degree. The college now plans to return to its own graduate program in the summer session, 1967. It plans to continue to work with the University of Missouri with cooperative graduate work in some areas of study.

The NCA visitors arrived late Wednesday afternoon and held an evening session with President Robert P. Foster and other administrators. On Thursday the visiting team conferred further with various administrators, the Graduate Program committee, the Faculty Council, and student leaders. They also visited Wells Library and toured the campus.

Today the representatives are talking with chairmen and other faculty members of the various departments and divisions, meeting with individual faculty members, and having a dinner - interview with selected honor students.

They will complete their visitation at noon on Saturday. They will subsequently make their report to NCA offices. Official action on re-accreditation will take place at the March meeting of the NCA in Chicago.

Iowa University 'Workshop' To Give Lecture on Campus

By Gary Kabrick

Synonymous with the University of Iowa's Workshop is its foreman, Paul Engle, a man deeply respected by his hard-worked, laboring students.

This man to whom anxious, aspiring writers from Africa, Asia, Europe, and America beg to come will be on our campus Tuesday.

In addition to visiting with some English classes during his stay, Mr. Engle will present a program entitled "Poetry and People" at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Charles Johnson Theater. He will investigate the origin of poetry in our daily lives. In clearing up the "mystery" about poetry, Mr. Engle intends to remove poetry from the silent page and put it into the consciousness of living people. The program is open to everyone.

An informal reception will be held for Mr. Engle in the recreation room of Roberta Hall from 3 to 5 p. m. All faculty members and English majors and minors are cordially invited, according to James Saucerman, who has made arrangements for Mr. Engle's visit.

This Rhodes honoree received his B. A. degree from Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he concentrated on a program of English literature, American history, and languages. Mr. Engle received his M. A. degree from the University of Iowa, where he presented a unique thesis, an original book of poems, Worn Earth, which won the Yale Series of Younger Poets prize for the year 1932.

While he was a Rhodes Scholar at Merton College, Oxford University, he received two more degrees. In 1937 Mr. Engle joined the faculty of the University of Iowa and is presently director of the program in creative writing there.

Author, editor, critic, and librettist, Mr. Engle has not allowed himself to travel a narrow path. His lecture tours have circled the globe. He has worked in television both at home and abroad. In fact, the opera, "Golden Child," for which he supplied the libretto, was presented on the Hallmark Hall of Fame in 1960.

The noted poet's appointments include American specialist for the Department of State, lecturing on recent American poetry in Norway, Denmark, Ireland, Germany, and Eastern Europe and member of the Advisory Committee on Arts and the Program Advisory Committee, the John F. Kennedy Cultural Center, Washington, D. C.

To this already impressive list may be also added the fact that Mr. Engle is the only poet and the only midwesterner on the National Council on the Arts, the White House, Washington, D. C.

Construction on Science Building Proceeding Ahead of Schedule

Plans to Form Building Floors

Construction of the new science building is moving at a fast pace, according to Curt Fobair, superintendent for construction.

The construction site, located on the Administration Building, is a beehive of activity. The men working under the direction of Mr. Fobair are completing their respective jobs. There are approximately 40 men on the building at ished, leaving mainly forming and shoring."

A pan system, concrete poured over metal molds or pans, is being used for the floors. Each floor of the three-story building will cover an approximate area of 40,000 square feet. Six thousand yards of concrete will be used in the project, and approximately 1,500 yards have been used to date.

The building was designed by architects Herschman and Douglas, who also designed the addition to the Wells Library, the Fine Arts Building, and the new high rise residence halls. Mr. Fobair also has been the superintendent of these projects.

The project is expected to cost three million dollars. The Federal government will pay one million, and the State of Missouri will pay the rest.

The total project will be worked on by three firms, Glaze Construction, Industrial Heating and Plumbing, and Beadnall Electrical Corporation.

Although Glaze Construction anticipates completion of the building in January of 1968, Theodore Weichinger, acting chairman of the Department of Science, does not expect the building to be ready for use until the following fall semester.

Marion Williams, Her Troupe To Give Jazz Concert Here

"She doesn't just sing, she lives each word, each note."

—Billboard Magazine

Marion Williams, hailed as the leading gospel singer of the day, and her troupe will perform on this campus at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Lamkin Gymnasium under the auspices of the Union Board.

Miss Williams, a performer whose wild, vibrant rhythm and phenomenal range set her apart from every other singer, is a major American artist.

She and her company will present their soaring production of "The Soul in Jazz." She leads her group of exceptional singer - dancer - musicians and the audience through a full-length, song-filled symposium on American Jazz.

In song, dialogue, and production numbers, they will tell the history of America's own musical sound — spirituals, folk songs, gospel, Dixieland, "bop," and rhythm and blues. Washboards, tambourines and trumpets are used to recreate original background music.

In Memoriam

Charles W. Hahn Jr., a youth with a friendly smile, a positive outlook, a desire to move forward. . . . For a few months he was a part of Northwest Missouri State College.

With courtesy and reserve, he participated in class discussion. Respected by his classmates and teachers, Charles, in his short time here, adjusted to college routine and made many new friends.

We share his parents' grief at his tragic death, but we believe the lives of all who knew him have been warmed, brightened by his sincerity and kindness.

Gail Bullis as the mother of the two daughters is immediately wary of the intruder's threat to her teenage youngsters. The older daughter, bored with being only a beauty, is so fascinated with the lusty hoodlum who has flashed into her backyard that she never hesitates to throw away her chance for marriage to the athlete's wealthy fraternity brother, who has been wooing her all summer.

Her plain but brilliant sister, Betsy Bouska, finds her balance for the first time through the tramp's brief attention. Also the maiden school teacher is worked up by the vitality-laden wanderer to make an issue out of the dangling courtship that has brightened her life in a dreary, minor way for a long time.

Marilee Crockett and Ron Wineinger and Richard Heinz will have the roles of the school-teacher and her hesitant swain. Others in the cast include Anne Nielson, Sue Rindard, Constantine Thomas, Danny John, and Phyllis Zwank.

Rollie Stadman and Jerry Eisenhower as Alan Seymour, Cheryl Reineke as Madge Owens, Marilee Crockett as Rosemary Sydney, and Richard Heinz and Ron Wineinger as Howard Bevans are getting the feel of the set for "Picnic" in rehearsal.

Board of Regents Approves Plans for Student Courts

A new program for student discipline courts recently approved by the Board of Regents is now in effect for all student discipline problems on campus.

Because proposals have to comply with regulations set up by the state laws, approval of the Board of Regents was necessary, Dr. C. E. Koerble explained.

Last year, Dr. Berndt Angman, chairman of the student-faculty discipline committee, appointed a sub-committee composed of Dr. Frank Grispingo, chairman, Dr. John Wahrer, Durward Dyke, and Judy Miller to examine discipline problems on campus. Dr. Koerble and Miss Karen Licklider served as advisers for the committee.

One of the sub-committee's proposals which is new to the organizational structure of the campus disciplinary courts is a student court. In chain of command it is directly below the college president and the student-faculty discipline committee.

The Student Court will be composed of five students, with one serving as chairman. Members must be appointed by the Student Senate with President Robert P. Foster's approval. Each one must be a junior or a senior with at least a 2.00 cumulative grade average. The chairman will be one of the Senate members of the student-faculty discipline committee. One of the personnel deans will be present at all meetings to serve in an advisory capacity.

Another new proposal is the organization of an Association of Men Students, similar to the Association of Women Students, which has been active on campus for several years.

The AMS will be composed of the Executive Council and the president of the Men's Residence Halls. The dean of men will advise the committee.

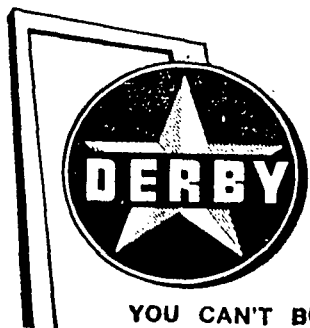

One of the significant things about the new proposals is the part the students had in organizing the regulations.

Another item of importance is that any student subject to disciplinary action always has the right of appeal in writing to a higher court.

The student-faculty discipline committee has been in effect on campus for eight years, and there has been a traffic court for three years. The sub-committee, however, sensed the need for the establishment of the student court and the AMS discipline committee.

Nodaway County United Campaign To Get Underway

"One Gift Works Many Wonders" is the theme of the United Campaign of Nodaway County, Inc., which, according to its director in Maryville, Dr. James Lowe, will begin its annual fund drive Jan. 17, with an overall goal of $30,000.

NWMSU students have, in years past, helped to collect for the United Campaign. For instance, last year a group of students walked from St. Joseph to Maryville to dramatize the fund drive. But this year, for the first time, a resolution passed the Student Senate to allow campaign workers to go directly to the students for contributions.

Money collected in the campaign will help finance the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the National Foundation, and some research in the heart and cancer fields.

Mexican Study Open To Interested Students

Those interested in studying in Monterrey, Mexico, this summer should contact Miss Mary Jackson, assistant professor of Spanish, Room 205, Colden Hall, immediately.

It is not mandatory to have studied Spanish prior to departure. The six hours credit which can be earned will be transferable to NWMSU.

Nativity Tableau

College students affiliated with the UCCF-Wesley Fellowship who portrayed the live Nativity during the pre-vacation week are Beverly Beeks, Mike Miller, Eric Johansen, Rose Ann Butcher, George Roberts, Hamilton Henderson, and Alan Pruitt.

Senior Coed Honored

Gana Whetstone was chosen as the "Spirit of Christmas" to reign over the 1966 "Hanging of the Greens."

The Many Facets of Christmas

Christmas 1966—How its sparkle, its gaiety, its warmth linger in our hearts—

For some the memories are personal, for others, communal—the thrill of being chosen "The Spirit of Christmas" . . . the pride over winning the best decorated room award . . . the carefree togetherness of caroling in the moonlight . . . the calmness that surrounded the living Nativity scene . . . the response to the melody of Christmas chimes . . . the merriment of contests, dances, programs.

Warmest memories of all arise from the joy of sharing gifts, clothing, and food to make Christmas a lasting vital part of each of us.

Junior Musicians

One section of the newly organized Horace Mann Elementary School band, directed by Lee T. Schneider, is shown in its debut at the Christmas program given for parents and friends.

Santa Claus Door

Denney Smith and Jim Weibel proudly stand beside their Santa Claus which won first prize and 10 dollars in Cooper Hall in the Men's Residences' Christmas Decoration Contest.

Dancers Perform in Pageant

Classes Choose Officers, Senators

Approximately 600 students voted at the recent student elections for class officers and senators.

Chosen to represent their classes in the Student Senate were Sherry Means and Kack Miller, seniors; Tom Frank and Alan Pruitt, juniors; Robert Brunker and Tim McDowell sophomores, and Connie Snook and Betsy Thompson, freshmen.

Barb McAvoy was elected president of the freshman class. Other officers elected are Rex Mowrey, vice president, and Gloria Sherman, secretary-treasurer.

Illinois U. Shows Broderich Drawing

A drawing by James A. Broderich, Northwest Missouri State College faculty member, will be on display at the ILL-MO-IA Drawing Exhibition, scheduled for Jan. 4-25 at Western Illinois University, Macomb.

The drawing, "Brian," was previously exhibited at the University of Saskatchewan, Canada, in the fall of 1965.

An instructor in the Department of Art, Mr. Broderich is a practicing artist. His works have been displayed at several Midwestern galleries, and some of his drawings were chosen for a traveling exhibit in the United States and Canada.

The ILL - MO - IA Drawing Exhibition is a juried showing of works by artists residing in Illinois, Missouri, and Iowa.

Planning for campus projects is a major responsibility of the recently elected class officers. Getting an early start at mapping out programs are, front row, Barb McAvoy, Linda Hoffelmeyer, and Gloria Sherman; back row, Linda Snell, Don Brader, and Connie Norris. Several officers were absent when the picture was taken.

Both are graduates of Jefferson High School and are attending NWMSC.

PINNED

Susan Long, a sophomore at NWMSC, is pinned to John Gearhart, a member of Phi Eta Sigma honorary scholastic fraternity at the University of Illinois.

THE STROLLER

Recently two avid suitcases were stranded at home one Sunday by the ice and snow. It will be bad if they ever get stuck at NWMSC by the elements.

The Stroller recently noticed a hardy group of students ice skating on the college pond. Getting up for a closer inspection, the Stroller overheard one flat-bottomed youth remark, "The only thing hard about skating is the ice, when you come right down to it."

With finals in the near future, a strange quiescence has fallen over the campus. Is it that everyone is studying, or is everyone struck dumb by the impending doom?

Ye Olde Stroller finds the Missouriian staff in humble apology to Gary McCollough, whose name appeared in a cutline for a picture in the last issue.

Although the leader of Alpha Kappa Lambda did much of the work in arranging the party and the people in the picture, he did not appear in the picture itself.

Students May Submit Creative Writing

Students are invited to submit creative writing for the biannual literary edition of the Northwest Missourian, which will be published in the first issue of the next semester.

Dr. Frank W. Grube, chairman of the Division of Language and Literature, announced recently that all students or teachers wishing to submit student literary works should give prose entries to Mrs. T. H. Eckert and poetry entries to him before the end of this semester.

Phillips Hall Men Organize 'Trouble-Shooting' Group

By Shirley Sanders

The 18' is not a gripe group," says Bill Watson, head resident counselor at Phillips Hall. "We're here to stop trouble before it starts by making suggestions at the right place and the right time." From a large meeting in Phillips Hall discussing a food problem developed an organization of trouble - shooters, a group of 18 men, three representatives from each floor.

The group works as an organized unit. Every suggestion that is made is presented in written form, first to Watson to be approved and then to higher officials.

Such was the case in dealing with a food problem. Phillips Hall men complained of too little food being served to the men in the new cafeteria. The group went to work and presented a written statement to Mr. Watson, food director. After much discussion, a solution was found, and larger serving were given to the men.

The men in Phillips Hall have a right to some thing they aren't getting," says Watson, who claims to be an adviser to the group rather than a leader.

Watson, who is a senior, has served as a counselor since the second semester of his sophomore year, and he realizes the importance of unity in the men's residence halls.

"The average student — if he doesn't belong to anything or a group — feels that he just doesn't belong," commented Watson. "The main aim of our group (The 18) is to pull this building together and make a united group of people that feel that they belong to some thing. I want these men to say 'I'm in Phillips Hall; I belong to Phillips Hall; and I'm proud of it!'"

The first big project for The 18 was the Phillips Hall Open House. The 18 called for volunteers, and the call was answered by more than 50 men. "They cleaned this place from top to bottom even going so far as to pick up cigarette butts from outside," beamed Watson. Volunteers served as greeters and guides, worked at the information desk, and served punch.

A second project is the doughnut and roll service provided from 7:30 to 10 a. m. daily for late morning risers who miss breakfast. The money earned goes for other projects including the Christmas decorations.

Another project that aroused interest is the introduction of the Phillips family crest. From a small sample, Jon Scheurich, a sophomore, has designed, hand drawn, and painted a large crest on poster paper which will be placed above the fireplace.

The Phillips crest idea will be extended by ordering a set of earthenware mugs with the crest imprint and sweatshirts bought by all men in Phillips Hall.

Still in the discussion stage is an idea to enlarge the crest on sheet metal which can be mounted at the end of the building between two large lights.

The 18 as an organization is completely new to NWMSU. They started with nothing, worked with the men in Phillips Hall, and now are providing that little bit of care that is needed to create a spirit of unity necessary to every happy home.

Crest for Phillips Hall

Bill Watson, head resident counselor, Larry Young, Jon Scheurich, and Sammy Mirza see how the Phillips Family Crest will look when it is placed permanently in the lounge of Phillips Hall. Jon Scheurich painted the crest, which is one of several projects undertaken by 'The 18.

Union Board Features 'Gazebo', 'Cimarron' As Weekend Movies

Glenn Ford stars in both features of the double feature Den movie to be shown Saturday night.

"The Gazebo" is a farcical version of the Broadway hit comedy, in which a TV writer bungles the murder of his wife's blackmailer.

"Cimarron" is set in Oklahoma between 1889 and 1914, covering the tumultuous opening of the Territory, with all the attendant violence and hardship, and ending in prosperity and showy luxury at the start of World War I.

The movie, based on Edna Ferber's novel, covers a quarter century of change through the experiences of a pioneering couple — Yancy Cravat, idealist, adventurer, and his wife, Sabra, determined to succeed.

The first feature will begin at 7 p. m. in the Administration Building auditorium.

'English Proficiency': Requirement For Student Teaching, Graduation

Results of the English proficiency examination given in Colden Hall Dec. 17 are now being issued by the Registrar's Office.

Those students who were reported at the mid-semester as deficient in English usage were required to take this examination unless they were at the time registered in a composition course. This program was instituted last year, supplanting one in which all students took an examination in their fourth semester in the college.

The present program works as follows: When a student is reported deficient in English, on his record is made a notation which will remain until he has removed the deficiency. Students who are reported for deficiency after having completed the freshman composition sequence and who fail the proficiency examination must earn a grade of at least C in a composition course in English 15, 85, 111, or 112.

The proficiency examination has two parts, a standardized test in the mechanics of writing and the writing of a paper on an assigned topic. Both parts of the examination must be passed in order to establish that no actual deficiency exists.

Coed to Strive For Daily Change

With New Year's Day over and everything back to abnormal it seems as if this is a good time to take a critical glance at the subject of New Year's resolutions.

By now, can you recall the silly, perhaps meaningless, resolutions you made last year at this time? Probably not.

Are resolutions really necessary? When one stops to think that over three-fourths of them are never written down and many of them are never thought about after a few days, why bother? Possibly, an inspiration is satisfied deep inside when one resolves.

Resolutions have been an American tradition for decades; they give the resolver an opportunity to, at least, attempt a reform. But, why wait for one day to roll around when a change can be in progress long before?

Therefore, I resolve to list my resolutions 365 days of the year.

—Roberta Cobb

Until the deficiency is removed, the student is not permitted to enroll in student teaching, nor can he be graduated from this college.

Ode: On Youth

In the popular press and in our homes, we often hear the war of the generations being waged. I do not wish to say that our generation is perfect, but it seems to me that our voice in this war is muted as a result of the simple fact that those privileged to speak on such matters are generally somewhat older than we.

It is time to redress the balance. Accordingly, I have compiled a short list of things which we of the younger generation wish we didn't hear as often as we do.

1) "That's typical of the younger generation. Now, when I was a kid. . . ."
2) "When are you going to quit smoking? You know it isn't good for you."
3) "My, how you've grown! How old are you now? Twenty-one? Oh, my, I must be getting old! Why, it seems only yesterday that you used to. . . ."

4) In the case of college students —

"Where did the last ten dollars I sent you disappear?"

5) In the case of a female under 23 or a male under 21—

"Why, if my folks had caught me (doing, saying) that when I was your age, they would have disowned me." (If the object of disapproval is under 19, the speaker would have been kicked out of the house.)

6) In the case of a single female over 20 or a single male over 22 —

"I wish you'd find a nice (boy, girl) and get married and settle down." If the family is Catholic or Jewish, the appropriate qualifier is inserted before (boy, girl). If it is fundamentalist, the word "decent" suffices. Other people are generally content

Congratulations to Our Reporters

The staff of the Northwest Missourian extends congratulations to the members of this semester's news writing class. These 19 students have contributed a great deal of the material used in this semester's editions of the paper: Carole Brown, Roberta Cobb, Deborah Cole, Doug Halliday, Marvin Dick, Ken Everling, Melvin Eyberg, Roger Glancy, Gail Halliday, Eric Nicholson, Patty Payne, Margaret Price, Shirley Sanders, Pat Schmitz, Richard Tapscott, Valerie Watkins, Carl Voss, Ken Wise, and Doug Dickinson.

The members of the class have studied composition, columns, news and feature writing, headlining, copyreading, interviewing, and photography. Their adept help has been greatly appreciated. Several of these students will continue their study in the field of journalism. We hope that our proficiency will continue to aid the traditional policy of making improvement of the Northwest Missourian.

Grapplers Remain Unbeaten, Win Own Invitational Meet

Freshman Zeamer Handles Rhyme

Northwest Missouri State wrestlers continued their winning season by defeating a slate of eight teams in the pre-vacation First Annual NWMSC Invitational Tournament.

Westmar College, Le Mars, Iowa, came the closest to Coach Jerry Landwer's grapplers by scoring 62 points to the Bearcats' 81. NWMSC held a solid lead going into the finals.

Freshman 137 - pounder Stan Zeamer posted the most impressive win for the 'Cats. His win over Rhyme of Morningside by a score of 8-2 aided him in earning a tie for the outstanding wrestler award with Tony Curtis of Graceland.

After crushing Rhyme, Zeamer received a standing ovation from the crowd. Landwer noted that the honor is only the third ovation given in a meet in his five years at Maryville. Others went to Ron James in 1963 and Al Packer in 1964.

Co - captains Jerry Mason and Ron James picked up the remaining wins at the tournament. James won on a forfeit from Clymer of Westmar, and Mason polished off LaCoss of Ft. Hays, 3-2. Zeamer, James, and Mason are the only undefeated NWMSC grapplers in their three meets.

Others earning points for the 'Cats were Corky Crandall, 115, second; Bill Rex, 145, third; Bob Decklever, 177, second; Al Borkowski, 191, second, and Doug Minnick, heavy-weight, fourth.

"I am happy with the courage and devotion displayed by the team," Coach Landwer commented. "This was our toughest tournament this year. I would like to thank the entire student body for the co-operation and loyalty to the wrestling team," he added.

The squad will meet Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, in a dual meet at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Parsons placed third at the Graceland Invitational and is rated one of the best independent teams in the Midwest. There will be no admission charge for the match, which will be held in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Scholarship Raise Voted Down

A motion to raise the number of grant - in - aid scholarships to athletes was voted down last month at the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association Conference held in St. Louis.

The proposal would have raised the number of scholarships to 45 in 1968 and 50 in 1970. MIAA schools will therefore be held to 40 scholarship awards annually.

Also defeated at the conference was a resolution to begin spring football. Minor changes were adopted in the constitution.

Dr. Charles Thate was elected vice president of the group. Voting members from NWMSC were Dr. Robert P. Foster and Herbert Dieterich. Others from NWMSC attending the meeting were Ryland Milner, athletic director, and Ivan Schottel, head football coach.

Psychology Club Elects Officers, Plans Program

Robert George has been elected president of the newly formed Psychology Club.

Other officers are Mike Carl, vice president, and Mary Smith, secretary - treasurer. Dr. Richard Quinn and Wayne Van Zomeren are the sponsors for the group.

The primary purpose of the organization is to broaden the students' interests in psychology. The group plans to have guest speakers on such topics as hypnotism, handwriting analysis, military psychology, and psychology employment opportunities.

At the next meeting, set for Wednesday, members will hear a talk on hypnotism. All interested students are invited to attend.

Swim Team Sets New Meet Marks

Both new records and defeat marked the Bearcat swim team competition during the pre-vacation week.

After setting seven new meet and pool varsity records during their win over William Jewell, the NWMSC swimmers suffered a defeat at the hands of Wayne State College of Nebraska by a margin of 60-37.

In the meet with Wayne State, NWMSC swimmers won the medley relay, the diving competition, the 200 - yard back - stroke, the 200 - yard breast stroke, and the free style relay.

First place winners for the Bearcats were Jerry Logston in diving; Mark Thomas, the 200 - yard backstroke; Bob Puck, the 200 - yard breaststroke, and Mark Thomas, Bob Puck, Steve Conners, and Randy Hanson, in the medley relay. John Clover finished a close second in both the 500 - yard free style and the 200 - yard free style.

The next meet for the Bearcat tankers will be against Springfield beginning at 2 p. m. Saturday in Lamkin gymnasium.

Bearcat Cagers Set to Meet Peru Here Thursday

"They'll have a good, strong ball club and they're always ready to play Maryville."

Thus Coach Dick Buckridge described the Peru State College basketball team which will invade Lamkin Gymnasium Thursday evening to meet the Bearcats.

Peru State, managing a respectable percentage from a tough schedule, boasts a third place finish in the McPherson College Tournament.

The Bobcats have height in lettermen Ron Snodgrass, 6' 8"; Wayne Heine, 6' 5"; Dick Estes, 6' 5", and a transfer from the University of Missouri, George Moore, 6' 7".

Rounding out Peru's top six players are senior lettermen Bill Rinne and Dean Cain, each standing 6' 1".

Bearcats to Open New Year In Games With Rolla, Cape

The Bearcat basketball squad is preparing for its New Year road encounter with Rolla Saturday and a second challenge from Cape Girardeau there on Monday.

Last season the Miners buried the Bearcats 84-52 in their first clash but fell 74-72 in the second outing. Rolla has a small but speedy team with six returning lettermen. Four of their veterans are double-figure scorers. Rolla finished in an MIAA Conference tie with NWMSC for fourth place last year.

Cape Girardeau will be coming on strong with All-MIAA forward Kermit Meystedt, who averaged 22.1 points per game last season.

The Indians, who have five lettermen back, employ a flashy fast break. Cape handed the Bearcats two losses last year, 96-70 and 88-75, and captured third place in the 1965-66 conference loop.

Volleyball Teams Vie for Honors

Eleven teams have been participating in a double-elimination tournament in intramural volleyball.
